The Secesh, according to this outgiving of the Republicans, will have about half the next Conthat success, if the Republican party had shown any statesmanship and magnanimity; that if troops had been withdrawn from Fort Sumpter and Pickens, and a collision avoided, that the Union men South would have brought the States back without bloodshed. They believe, now, that opportunities for Union are passed by, and prevented by this same Repub lican majority. They believe these Republicans incompetent to deal with this rebellion; that the latter are using power to revolution ize the Government itself; that mere brute force will never restore the Union; that wisdom is as necessary as power; that the common, vulgar weapon of brute force is blind and may destroy one and make a despotism of the other. The Republicans, blind partisans, see none of this danger. They are free. They enjoy that blessed kind of freedom so acceptable to tyrants-freedom to persecute and punish their opponents. This is the sort of guess, and then they figure out that Bramlette freedom that has always been a luxury to ruling powers. Free to do as they please, free

We are told that there is no danger to freedom; that our people will never allow that. All bosh! Don't they submit and applaud, too? Mr. Seward has only to ring a bell at his right hand and arrest a man in Iowa, imprison him, and there is no power to relieve him. Is not Vallandigham now an exile from his State by pure despotism, not by law? Are not thousands arrested and held at discretion without either charge or trial? And don't people submit? Nay, one party applauds. Nay more, we are informed that Gen. Rous seau said in that speech the Journal did not rested where one had been, and that nineteen its friends. As we have said, they are free, power which they exercise to enslave those who do not agree with them. No darger that our people will submit to a despotism! Ob, no. They will turn despots themselves until fuller vote polled than was ever polled besome power gets ready to practice on the fore. whole what a party has taught by their practice. to punish all who differ with them.

This sort of freedom has always been a luxury -freedom to persecute our opponents. Our people like it, revel in it, as others have done. It is the sort of freedom that always precedes despotism. It is the forerunner.

Experience has taught the world that there is no freedom unless law stands an impregna ble bulwark between power and the poorest citizen; where the ruler has no discretion at all outside of law; where a minority, without any official power, is just as free as the majority with power civil and military. Are we North or South in that condition?

Can't Republicans see that those not interested in the freedom they enjoy may entertain very different opinions from them as to the dangers to free institutions? All who differ with them are rebels. If that be true, they are in danger. The rebels have the physical force, if it is ever organized, to turn the tables; and then, when the majority put in practice what the Republicans have taught by their there is danger to civil liberty; and when they are picked up by the military and imprisoned at discretion, not by law, exiled by military commissions, regardless of all constitutional previsions, upon a military necessity, they avalagous to the one now raging between the North and the South. That produced by an attempt on the part of three of the Swiss Cantons to separate themselves from the Confederation, a few years since, in some respects, resembles it most nearly. That attempt, it will be remembered, was arrested, and the will be remembered, was arrested, and the rebellious Cantons speedily reduced to submission by the arms of the Confederacy. It is frequently comeared to our old Revolutionary struggle with the mother coun ry, but there is scarcely an analogy between the two cases. The thirteen Colonies were not like the Southern States, equal in political rights with the other States of the British Empire. They possessed no sovereign power wastever. They were not, as we were, en itled to representation in the common Parliament of the British Union, but were mere Colonies—mere de-Union, but were mere Colonies-mere de pendencies upon the mother country. In an evil hour the administration of George Gren ville, and afterwards that of Lord North, attempted to impose a tax upon the Colonies. This oppression was resisted, and the resistance was made the pretext for other oppres sions more upjust still. The Colonies con tinued their resistance in a constitutional way for nearly ten years, by representations, re-monstrances and petitions for the redress of monstrances and petitions for the redress of grievances, but all in vain. At length they took up arms, with the avowed object of enforcing such redress. They solemnly disclaimed all intentions of separation from the parent State, for they were as loyal in their feelings of attachment to the British Constitution as were the inhabitants of Surry or Cornwall. This resolute step they confidently expected would procure the decired dently expected would procure the de ired redress; but the advice of all the ablest statesmen of that age of Chatham, of Camden, of Burke, of Fox, of Rockingstatesmen of that age — of Chatham, of Camden, of Burke, of Fox, of Rockingham and others, were thrown away upon the narrow-minded monarch and the bigoted ministry which then swayed the destines of the British Empire. Still in hope, they continued the struggle for one whole year. At length the British Parliament declared the colonies out of the protection of the parent State. And then at last, no other course was left but to declare their independence, and defend it if need be with their life's blood. The battle of Lexington was fought on the 19 h of April, 1775, and on the 13th of April, 1776, the Provincial Congress of North Carolina "emporaged their degates of the other Colonies in declaring independence and forming foreign alliances," and on the 15th of the following menth Virginia, through her Convention, instructed her delegates in the Continental Congress "to propose to that body to declare the United Colonies free and independent States, absolved from all allegiance to, or independence on, the Crown of Palement of Geast Rivain." and on the 4th ciance to, or independence on, the Crown or Perhament of Great Britain," and on the 4th of July foll wing the ever memorable Declaration was made.

But how different has been the course of the Secessionists. They seem to have resolved years ago that the Union should be destroyed, and then to have set themselves to work to forge such grievances as would seem to give them a decent pretext for the accomplishment of their pretext for the accomplishment of their pretext. Is ste of South Caretina herself had been from the foundation of the Government nearly up to that period as strong an addicate of a high tariff as any State in New England. That question was compromised. South Carolina obtained all that she osterably demanded A revenue tariff, with lacided all protection, became the settled policy of the Government, and, except for a short period under tha tariff of 1842, was never departed from But still they were not satisfied. Immediately after passage of Mr. Clay's Compromise bill, the newspaper organ of the Secessionists at the newspaper organ of the Secessionists at Washing on declared, "that the South could never be united on the tariff question, and that the slave question was the only one that could unite them." And Mr. Calhoun, if I mistake not, said the same thing in a speech at Abbaville, in South Carolina, about the same time: and, of course, was followed by all the lesser lights among his adherents. Then commenced that violent agitation of the slavery question which had nearly culminated upon the admission of California, in 1850. Again, by the efform of those immertal statesmen of the last age, Messrs. Wetster, Clay and others, was the matter compromised. The whole counsettlement, but it soon appeared that there were a number of restless spirits among the extremists of the South, that would be the extremists of the South, that would be satisfied with nothing short of a dissolution of the Union. Of this class of politicians, W. L. Yancey may be filly selected as representative man. He immediately began to agitate the question again. He went to the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore in 1852, as a delegate from the State of Al bama, and there proposed as the ultimatum on which he could continue to act with the Democratic party, and upon which, in his opinion, the slave States could consent to remain in the Union, that the doctrine of nonelf.

without any reference to its constitutionality should have been regarded as an organic law, and observed as sacredly as the Constitution itself.

The effect of this measure was great and rapid, and there can be but little doubt that it was such as a majority of its authors contemplated. The result was the formation of a great party at the North opposed to the further extension of slavery, and which party very nearly succeeded in electing their candidate for the Presidency, Mr. Fremont, in 1856. After the election, this party seemed to be on the wane, until the anti slavery spirit of the whole North was aroused to madness, by 1856. After the election, this party seemed to be on the wane, until the anti slavery spirit of the whole North was aroused to madness, by an attempt on the part of Mr. Buchanan's administration to force the Lecompson Consitution with slavery upon the people of Kansas, in opposition to the known and expressed wish of three-fourths of them. But for this most unjustifiable measure the Republican party wild undoubtedly have dwindled down to moderate proportions; and even after this, it is doubtful of they could have succeeded in the Presidential election of 1860, if the Sec ssionists, with Yancey at their head, had not determined that they should succeed. After Mr. Yancey and his party had, against their wishes, succeeded in getting their ultimatum of non-intervention incorporated into the Cincinnati platform, they went to work to conjure up another to present to the Charleston Convention. Abandoning their doctrine of non-intervention, they went to the opposite extreme and demanded that the intervention of Congress for the protee ion of slavery in the territories should constitute a part of the Under such circumstances it seems that if they had they had the most ample opportunities of labored under any real grievance, their course ascertaining public opinion on the Cotton was plain. They should have taken the course of our revolutionary fathers. When the States strained to state, as the result of our inquiries,

In spite of all the victuries which they profess to have obtained over the Yankees, they have lost the States of Missouri, Kentucky, Arkansas, Texas, Louisians, Mississippi, and Tennessee, and in my humble opinion have lost them forever; and, in all probability, Alabama will soon be added to the number. This will leave the Confederacy but five States out of the original thirteen; and of these five the Yankees have possession of

of our revolutionary fathers. When the States assembled in Convention, instead of proceeding at once to declare their independence—for the idea of secession, peaceably of right, sema, as Publius says, to have exploded and given up the ghost—should clearly and concisely have stated what their grievances were, and demanded redress in respectful yet firm and decided terms. They should have exhausted every constitutional means of obtaining guarantees—if any were needed—by representation, by remonstrance, by petition; and failing in all these, they should have done as our revolutionary sires did—i e. fight in the Union for their rights until they were driven out of

have been accepted. But the Congress of the United States did pass by the constitutional majority of two-thirds the proposition reported by Mr. Criwin, from the committee of twenty-six, to so amend the Constitution as to perpetuate slavery in the States. What stronger guarantees could be given so for acceptance. stronger guarantees could be given so far as the States were concerned it would be diffi-cult to cheeve. What then would have been left to quarrel about? The territories. Durprovide temporary Governments for the thre remaining new territories, to wit: Colorado, Nevada and Dacotah. These acts contain no trace or indication of the Wilmot Proviso, nor any other prohibition against the intro-duction of slavery, but, on the other hand, expressly declare among other things, that "no law shall be passed impairing the rights of private preperty; nor shall any discrimin-ation be made in taxing different kinds of property, but all property subject to taxation shall be in proportion to the value of the property taxed," Now, when it is considered that all three of these Territories are north of 36deg 30min, and that in the new Territory now owned by the United States south of that line, slavery actually exists and is recognized by the Territorial law, the question may well be asked: "What was there worth quarreling much less fighting about?" Here was a settlement of the question in the Territories made by a Repub-lican Congress, which gave the South all that up to the time of the Charleston Convention she had ever asked, and far more than she age had ever asked, and far more than she could hope to gain, in any event, by secession. Indeed, I think it must now be apparent that secession, even could it have been effected peaceably, would have been no remedy for the grievance of which they complained. Nay, so far as any grievances arising from a failure to obtain a return of our fugitive slaves was concerned, I think it mus now be apparent that it would have been an aggravation in-stead of a remedy for the evil. I think all calm and dispassionate men everywhere are now ready to admit that it would have been far better for us to have accepted the terms offer-ed to us, and preserved peace and the Union. into the horrors of this desolating war, which has spread a pall over the whole land—has has spread a pail over the whole land—has brought mourning into every family—has rendered hundreds of thousands of hearth—stones desolate—has filled the land with mitned and disabled, with widows and orphans, and squalid poverty—has crowded our poorhouses and almshouses—has sported away many hundreds of thousands of lives, and many hundreds of millions of treasure— only to find the institution for which they profess to have gone to war in a thousand times greater jeopardy than ever before. Such being the condition into which they have brought the country, the question pre-sents itself, "Is there any remedy?" A full, complete and adequate remedy there is not, for what can restore the loved ones lost—repair at once the desolation or remove immediately the mourning from our land? Yt there is a remedy which, with the helping hand of time, will accomplish much, very much indeed, and which, with the approximation of the mational army.

The World's dispatch says the Navy Department has advices from Coarleston confirmatory of those already published.

The dispatches received are withheld for the dispatches received are withheld for the mational army. usually follows desolating wars, will, perhaps, remove most of its traces in a half century. This remedy is peace-SPREDY PEACE! they say that we are so situated that no proposition for peace can be made by us; that having proclaimed our independence, we must fight until it is voluntarily acknowledged by the United States, or until we are completely subjugated. On the meeting of the British Parliament, which took place on the 13th of December, 1792, the King, in his speech to the two Houses, intimated his intection of going to war with the French Republic. On moving the address, in answer to the speech, a memorable debate arose. On this occasion, Charles Fox delivered one of and Maryland has not joined the Confederacy, nor his Kentucky nor Missouri ever really been with us. Slavery has not only not been with us. Slavery has not only not been the Territories, but Missouri has passed an act of emancipation and Maryland is ready to do so rather than give up her place in the Union, and the last hope of obtaining one foot of the Territories for the purpose of excending slavery has departed from the Confederacy forever. The grievances caused by the failure of some of the Northern States to execute the fugitive slav-law, have not only not been remedied, but more slaves have been lost to the South forever since secession was inaugurated, than would have escaped from their masters in the Union in five centuries. And how have they kept their promise that they would respect the sovereignty and rights of the States? Wha ever the Government may be not how have they kept their promise that they would respect the sovereignty and rights of the States? Wha ever the Government may be not how have they kept their promise that they would respect the sovereignty and rights of the States? Wha ever the Government may be not only not been remarked than would have escaped from their masters in the Union in five centuries. And how have they kept their promise that they would respect the sovereignty and rights of the States? Wha ever the Government may be not only not been remarked the source of the States and disregards the decisions of their highest judicial tribunals. The great central despotsim at W-shinkton, as they may lead to the happiest results? Four-fiths of the people of that portion of North Carolina bordering for many miles on the Yadkin river, and I believe of the whole State, are in favor of the latter course.

The one great demand of the people of th's part of the State is peace—peace upon any terms that will not enslave and degrade us. They may, perhaps, prefer that the independence of the Sou h should be acknowledged, but this they believe cannot now be obtained; Instead of an early and permanent establishment of the "wealthiest and best Govern ment in the world, with unbounded credit,"

It has been decided by the Second Comptroller that when a pensioner re-enlists he forfeits pay in that capacity, and cannot be any extent, we cannot hold our own against the armies which the Yankees have now in the field, how can we meet them with their 300,000 new levies which will soon be in 300,000 new levies which will soon be in readiness, while they can keep their army recruited to a great extent, if not up to its maximum number, from adventurers which are constantly arriving in their ports from every country in Europe? But if independence cannot be obtained, then they are for any terms that are honorable—any terms that do not decreade as a few completed on the cumberland up to the 17th. but five States out of the original thirteen; and of these five the Yankees have possession of many of the most important points, and one third of their territory. So far the Yankees have never falled to hold every place or importance which they have taken, and present indications are, that Charleston will soon be added to the number. The campaign of General Lee into Pennsylvania has undoubtedly proved a fa lure, and with it the last hope of conquering a peace by a successful invasion of the enemy's country. Our army has certainly been very much weakened and dispirited by this failure and the fall of Vicksburg, and how long even Richmond Enquirer said some time ago, "They are slowly but surely gaining upon us, acre by acre, mite by mile," and unless Providence interposes in our behalf—of which I see no indications—we will, at no great distance of time, be a subjugated people. As to our unbounded credit based upon the security of King Cotton, it is unnecessary to speak when we see one of the most is fluential States in the Confederacy discrediting a very large part of the Confederace currency. will keep on the right side, and then he will gausted many of his new friends. The decea ed was a woman of good native intellect The deca ed was a woman of good native intellect, bractical energy, prepossessing appearance a deouteous and agreeable manners. Having be n left a widow, many years since, with a number of young children dependent upon her exert in s, he succeeded, by perseverence and skill, in raking them up to be resp. cable and educated men and wom n. She was endowed with all those social virtues which adapted her, in an emin nt degree, to make a happy home; and no one could visit her pleas ant and pretty radionic without being struck with the neatness, thrift and chertulness in affection which reigned there. But, after playing her part well in the drama of human lite, she has now left this world of t ibulation to enjoy, as we hope, a tranquil rear in a better land. To lose such a mother is i. deed a severe blow to the a complished daughter who watched, with so much patience, skill and aff a tion, around he sed of the declining pare t—and to the absent daughter, who, a few months since, bit she sufferer a final adieu to return to her distant home—and to the young sons who have enjoyed so much comf t in her cheerful and watchful care. Yet we trust that the H-auenly Fath r, "who doet all things well, 'will soothe these bleeding hearts, nd cause even this affiction to work for their ultimate welfare.

At the residence of his father, in Carroll county, Ky., on the 12th inst., DAVID, son of Wm. and Mary A. Bogsgess in the 2th ear of his age.

In the bloom and vigo of youth, ere twiting fully of the sweets of life, when near friends became nearer, and life 'itself became dearer, the silent angel of death has led him to the cold silent bed becast he sod. 'Its hard for thy be ents and friends thus to part with thee, Davie. They bury not thy energy with thee, but weasure it in that sanctuary of their hearts which was thine atone, to live with them if I hey in their turn are becknown hence to live with thee again in a brighter land. On the 20th inst., of hemorrhage of the lungs, WM. E. COYLE, aged 88 years.

WHY IT IS BEST. 1. It is more simple, durable, and less liable to de-rangement than others.
2. It sews from ordinary spools, and no rewinding of thread is necessary.
2. It sews with equal facility all fabrics, the most deli-cate, and the heaviest, with all kinds of thread, silk, cotton or linen.

4. It seams so strong and elastic that it never breaks, even on the bias.

5. It fastens both ends of the seam by its own operation.
6. Its seam, though cut at every sixth stitch, remains firm, and neither runs or ravels in wear.
7. Its seam is more plump and beautiful, and retains its plumpness and beauty after washing, better than any other
8. Its seams can be removed in altering garments, Arren Proper instruction, without picking or cutting them. 9. Watching and varying the tension upon the threads Machine, any amount of sewing may be done without change.

10. It makes beautiful embroidery without any change of arrangement, by simply inserting threads of suitable sizes and colors for this purpose. It is the only machine that both embroiders and sews perfectly.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21. A letter from off Charleston says ensign Benj. H. Poster, of the new Ironsides, who has been detailed for special service by Admiral Dablgren, on account of the high character he has obtained in the fleet, and daring bravery and prudence, performed a feat Monday night, during the furious bombardment, that will insure him high commendation by

The duty assigned him was to ascertain the character and nature of the obstructions across the harbor of Charleston between Forts Sumpter and Moultrie. He had been up in one of the Ironsides' cutters with a picket crew for several nights on this mission, and was prevented from accomplishing it by encountering the picket boats of the enemy.

On Monday night he was scouting around Fort Sumpler when the furious cannonade commenced. All eyes were centered on the ort and the work they were doing; but Ensign Porter saw that the opportunity for his work had arrived. The fiashing of the cannon from Forts Sumpter and Gregg guided his movements and he was enabled to reach the obstructions without being observed.

Were refused by Miss Schwartz, a young lady of fifteen. They replied they would come in, at the same time trying to break down the door. While this was going on, the other inmates of the house, viz: Mr. Schwarts, John Wise, Captain Golden, government horse dealer, and a young man in his employ, all bbs ructions without being observed.

He spent fully half an hour in them, thoroughly investigating their construction, and noved off towards the fleet in time to reach the spent fully half and the spent fully half and the spent fully half and an annunition. In their has yet reach they left behind a revolver which Miss the immediately reported to the Admiral, Schwartz appropriated to her own use. She who declared himself nightly gratified at the information, declaring that he now knew all ed it to the leader of the gang, telling them to that he desired.

The information obtained is of course kept secret, but will be availed of by the Admiral

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, Aug. 21. About 6 o'clock last evening the guerrilla chief Quantrill, with a force of about eight hundred strong, crossed from Missouri into Kansas, near the town of Gardner, 4 miles below here, and immediately started for Lawrence, arriving before that town at 4 o'clock this morning. He posted a guard around the city so that citizens could not escape, snd, with the remainder of his men, commenced pillaging stores, shooting citizens and firing houses.

A gentleman who managed to escape, and secreted himself in a cornfi-ld near the town, reports that he swem the river at 8 o'clock, and, on reaching the bluffs this side, had a plain view of the city, which was then a sheet of fiames. From what he saw, he thinks the less would reach two millous of dollars, and by this time perhaps much more, as they by this time perhaps much more, as they seemed determined to destroy everything that would burn. We cannot learn that any re-sistance was made, the citizens being taken completely by surprise; the first alarm being the crackling of flames and shouts of the rebels. James H Lane was in the city, and it is feared he has fallen into the hands of the guerrillas, as it was almost impossible to es-cane through the lines.

Large numbers of Union troops have been sent in pursuit of the rebels, but with what success is not yet learned.

Mayor Anthony, of this city, issued a proclamation, stating that the people of Leaven-worth need not apprehend any trouble, but requests every sole-bodied citizen to provide himself with the best arms he can procure and hold himself in re-diuess to aid their friends in any part of the State at a moment's notice. He censures the General commanding the district, who, he says, with five thou-sand troops under his command has allowed a few hundred guerrillas to get fifty miles into the interior, burn a city, and destroy two millions' worth of property; and intimates that the citizens must depend upon themselves for the defense of the city and State.

LEAVENWORTH, August 21. Latest from Lawrence is to 11 o'clock this morning, at which time Quantrille had his forces drawn up on the south side of the city reparatory to leaving.

There can be no doubt but a large number of the best citizens of the town have been shot in the street. We have the names of sev. eral prominent citizens who are reported killed, but as the reports cannot be traced to any reliable source we refrain from giving place to them.

A note was received here this evening from B. Swift, asking the citizens of Leavenworth to send physicians, with instruments and medicines, immediately, that the doctors of Lawrence are out of all kinds of medical sup-plies, and stating that the town had been burnt and fifty to sixty persons shot. CHICAGO, August 21. Memphis specials say the Seventeenth army mominated.

Memphis specials say the Seventeenth army corps is the only one now stationed at Vicksburg. A species of intermittent fever prevails among them. Cases requiring it are promptly removed to the hospitals here.

Very few troops are quartered in the city, only enough to do police duty; the rest are encamped on the hights back of the city. Sherman's corps is still encamped near the Big Black, on Bear and Clear Creeks. This corps has had the hardest service of the campaign, yet enjoys better health than any of the others.

The Thirteenth corps, Ord's, moved to Natchez for military reasons, and will remain there for the present.

Porter's fleet is scattered along the Mississippi from New Orleans to Cairo. Intermediato distances between the points where the gunboats are stationed, are patrolled by light built boats.

A HEROINE .- On the night of the 6th inst., ber, visited the house of a Mr. Schwarts, He was pursuing the picket boats of the enemy.

He was pursuing this investigation when he saved the lives of eight of the crew of the Wabash's captured boat.

On Monday night he was scouting around were refused by Miss Schwartz, a young lady treat they left behind a revolver, which Miss "come on, if they wanted to, and that some of them should fall or she would." They threatened to kill her if she did not leave the door. She replied-"The first one who takes one step towards this door, dies, for this is the home of my parents, and my brothers and sisters, and I am able to, and shall defend it." Seeing that she was determined in her purpose, and after holding a consultation together, they left. Brigadier General Bunn, after reciting the above facts in a general order, passes a high compliment upon the girl, "with a courage worthy of a Joan of Are," and denounces the cowards who deserted her. The acting Governor Hall, on behalf of the State, is to present Miss Schwartz with a splendid revolver worth $100, as an appropriate testimonial for her heroic bravery.

ANALGAMATION .- The Cleveland Plaindealer says that a colored musician of that city, known by the sobriquet of "Professor Martin," was, on Wednesday, married to a white woman named Mary W. Barnes, a resident of that county. No questions were asked when Martin applied at Probate Judge Turner's office for his marriage license.

MEETING OF TOBACCO MANUFACTURERS. At a meeting of the tobacco manufacturers of this city, held Wednesday morning at the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse, Mr. Burge was called to the chair and D. M. Anderson appointed secretary. The chair explained the object of the meeting, namely: To consider the importance and practicability of calling a convention of the tobacco manufacturers of the West, in order that some uniform regulations may be estab-lished that will give reliability to the weights of manufactured tobacco throughout the ountry

The chair remarked that it would be well to have the co-operation of the Northern manu-facturers, as he was aware of the interest they have the co-operation of the Notice they had in such a movement.

The following resolution, offered by Mr. J. B. Lewis, was read and adopted:

Resolved, That we call a convention of the manufacturers of tobacco, to meet in this city on the 16th day of S-ptember, to consider the propriety of taking some step teward establishing a uniform standard for the inspection of weights of manufactured tobacco.

On motion of Mr. J. B. Lewis the chair was authorized to appoint a committee of four to correspond with various manufacturers elsewhere on the subject, and also to wait upon Collector Speed and report to him the proceedings of this meeting to enable him to lay the subject in its proper light before the Collectors elsewhere.

The chair appointed Messrs. Spaulding, Wicks, Robinson and Lewis on said committee.

> The great Atlantic, in charge of Captain Harry McDougal, left Cairo Wednesday evening with a huge freight trip and her cabin crowded with passengers for New Orleans. She will, we understand, run as a regular packet between Vicksburg and New Orleans for the present. The Tempest, direct from New Orleans with a number of sick soldiers, arrived yesterday. She is the first boat that has come direct from that city to this place. During her trip from Cairo to this place ten soldiers died on board, all of whom were puried on the land at different places below. Yesterday was another dull day on the wharf. The St. Paul Press of the 18th says: The river is still rising at quite a good rate. There have recently been heavy rains on the head waters of the Minnesota and Mississippi, and a good swell is expected from each of these rivers. From every part of the State we hear riports of heavy rains, which must necessarily swell the smill tributaries of the Minnesota and Mississippi and produce high water.

incinnati. In regard to matters on the upper Mississippi above the rapids, we give the following. The Minneapolis State Atlas of Wednesday says: We are glad to hear that the recent rains have caused a rise in the river. So far, it has risen two feet. Our lumbermen are preparing to avail themselves of this long-wish-d-for event to get their immense stock of logs down. Gangs of men are eaving daily for the pineries and "upper drives."

A Minnesota paper says: The heavy rains with which our settlement has been visite; the past ten days, have extended over the whole State. They were all more or less accompanied by severe storms of wind or hail.

[River Correspondence Louisville Democrat.] CAIRO, August 18-3 A. M. Messrs. Editors: Our port list for the past thirty-Sunday—Minnehaha, St. Louis to Vicksburg, 11 A.M.; David Tatum, Vicksburg to St. Louis, 1 P. M.; Yankee, Vicksburg to St. Louis, 1 P. M.; C. Bowan, Evansville to Evansville, 2 P. M.; Platte Valley, St. Louis to Memphis, 5 P. M. Monday—Starlight, St. Louis to New Orleans, 6 A. M.; Tempest, Vicksburg to Cairo, 6 A. Graham, Memphis to St. Louis, 4 P. M.; Adelina, Helena to St. Louis, 6 P. M.

The Minnehaha came down from St. Louis, mostly loaded with forage for New Orleans. She also took down two barges of fee.

The David Tatum and Y-nkee came up from Vicksburg loaded with furl ughed soldiers. They both lay here awaiting orders.

The Charley Bowen arrived and departed with moderate passenger trips both ways.

The Platte Valley had as much as she could carry on the water. She added lightly to her passenger list at this point, but made no addition to her freight.

The Starlight and Hiawatha were loaded down with Government oats for New Orleans.

The Starlight left yesterday evening. The Hiawatha will wait for the arrival of this morning's train.

The Tempest and Sunny South both brought up furloughed soldiers from Vicksburg. They both lay here awaiting the option of the Government. The fine steamer Commercial arrived from Memphis full of people and light freight for Louisville. We are indebted to h r clerk for manifest and late naners. papers.
The little side-wheel Nevada came down from the Cumberland river with dispatches. She will very likely return.
The G. W. Graham had nothing of any import-Owing to the scarcity of a crew, the Atlantic will not go down befere to morrow morning.

The river is about at a stand with 5½ feet to St.
Louis and 7½ feet to Memphis. No boats aground.

There are also reported 4 feet to Louisville and MUTILATED POSTAL CURRENCY.-There is much complaint about the torn, dirty and mutilated postal currency. At present the only mode of exchanging these notes is as follows:

"Mutilated notes and fragments will be redeemed only at the Treasury of the United States at Washington, whither they can be sent, addressed to the Treasurer of the United States, by mail, free of postage. A draft on the Assistant Treasurer at New York for the amount allowed will be returned in the same way to the address of the person remitting the same. Mutilated fractional notes presented for redemption must be in sums of not less than three dollars of the full face

FOR BURNING

IN FLUID LAMPS

PATENTED MARCH 24, 1863,

THIS IS AN ARTICLE W NT OF ITS UTILITY, SIM.
y termed "the best thing of which to any c mmc furd outsmoke or smell, while more plicity and economy, has the kind ever invented, by t lamp, you can burn Kerosene light is obtained from a given quantity of Oil than with any other burner,
With one of these burners applied to any fluid lamp it may be moved rapdily about, or even carried out of doors, without the light being extinguished

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT. A VALUABLE INVENTION.—One of the best, and at the same time, most simple contrivances for burning Kerosene Oil in ... common fluid lamp. It is sessimple that any child can apply it, an it will burn Kerosene Oil in any fluid lamp without even changing the whicking. It is one of the neatest things that has come under our notice, and is destined to become very popular with all who use it. It burns the Oil perfectly, with no smoke, and will save, many times its cost in a few months, and for portable or nigh lamps it appears to be the nie plus ultra.—(Syracuse Courier and Union.

[From the Scientific American.]

It accomplishes the object very perfectly, and dispenses with the annoyance and expense of the inconvenent chimney. A free and steady light, without smoke, is obtained, when a good q ality of eil is used. The it vention ce sists in apply as the metalic burner to the tube of the Lamp, the burner is simply slipped over this, and can be easily adjusted to any fluid Lamp; thus equipped, coal oil can be burned in it as readily as fluid. The burner should be allowed to procet above the top of the tube a distance equal to the diameter of it, or about 3-16 of an inch; and the wings, compoing the attachment, must be separated, so as to allow the division to be just equal to the establishment of the control o "It is an adm rable invention, and effects the purpose in the simplest pes-tible manner. These burners are coming into universal use."—[Rochester]

"It is a very simp e contrivance, and entirely effectual, and has a rapid and extensive sale,"—[Express. Other journals speak in like terms, and the most flattering testimonials are being constantly received from agents and others as to their efficiency and economy; in fact they have earned for themselves a wide-spread reputation.

The article never fails to commend itself to all who see it in operation. PRICE. Liberal Discounts made to Agents and Dealers.

Orders f r any amount promptly executed. TRAMS—Cash on delivery. A sample burner will be sent free per mail on receipt of 25 cents. WILLIAM NASH, Sole Proprietor and Manufacturer, Watertown, N. Y.
